DEMOCRAT-FORUM JOINS THE A. B. C.

WILL GUARANTEE PAID CIRCULATION TO ADVERTISERS.

AN AUDIT IN 6 MONTHS

Audit Bureau of Circulations Is Out-Growth of Era of False Statements by Publishers.

Word has been received that the application of the Daily Democrat-Forum for membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations has been accepted. This is a co-operative organization whose purpose is to prove the circulation statements of newspapers to advertisers and advertising agencies.

The Democrat-Forum began keeping the necessary records the first of October. When a period of six months is ended a special auditor will come to Maryville and will make a searching audit of the records. This initial audit will cost the Democrat-Forum $15 a day for the auditor and traveling expenses from Chicago. Then, our regular dues will guarantee us one audit each year.

The Audit Bureau of Circulation was formed in 1914. It is the outcome of the false circulation statements which so many newspapers have made during the last few years. A few of the leaders in the newspaper world realized that the publishing business would never come into its own until some plan was made by which circulations are guaranteed.

Has Had Rapid Growth.

In the brief period of three and one-half years the organization has grown until it has 100 general advertisers, 100 advertising agencies, 600 newspapers, 150 magazine and popular periodicals, 120 class, trade and technical publications and nearly 100 Canadian members, as well. In Missouri there are 17 newspapers which are members. This is the smallest Missouri city so far in which a newspaper belongs to the organization, although some of the newspapers in larger cities have smaller circulations than the Democrat-Forum.

Of the 600 newspaper members, only four papers have as large a paid circulation as The Democrat-Forum in proportion to the population of the city in which the paper is published. Must Keep Many Records.

Among the many things which this newspaper will have to keep in order to have the proper records are these: Amount of paper used in publishing the paper, subject to verification by invoices from paper mills, cancelled checks in payment of same and freight bills; press room report showing the number of papers printed daily; post-office receipts for postage; original orders for mail subscriptions; proofs of mailing lists with expiration dates marked; cash book record of paid subscription; draw sheets showing papers taken by carriers; percentage of subscribers paid up, etc.

There is a tendency to discount subscription lists, which are not paid-in-advance because the advertisers are taking the attitude that most worthwhile newspapers are worth paying for in advance. Although The Democrat-Forum has had little trouble in collecting for its subscriptions, still it may be deemed necessary to go on a strictly paid-in-advance plan in order to get the very highest rating.

A Guaranteed Circulation Now.

The Democrat-Forum is now keeping a daily record sheet, which is copied on a monthly record book. This record book has proper classified columns for the different kinds of circulation. Any one who is interested in this sheet is invited to call at the office and see it.

We feel that we are doing a greater service to our advertisers, both local and foreign, by giving them a guaranteed circulation which is proved by an independent auditing bureau. No more will advertisers have to depend upon post office circulation statements which are unreliable because there is no penalty for falsification.

TWO AUTOS INTO A DITCH.

Driver Became Confused, Causing Two Cars to Suffer Damages.

Two automobiles came to grief last night when they went into the ditch on the road just north of the Wabash tracks north of town. The first car was being driven by a woman whose name was not learned. Becoming confused when a car came up from behind, she drove off the road. Andy Spire was in the second car, and in trying to avoid a collision, was forced into the ditch. Both cars were damaged but their occupants were unhurt. A relief car from Wray's garage pulled them out.

CROWD LIKED "PENROD"

Plymouth Singing Party Gave Pleasing Program As First Number In Fall Festival Course.

The Plymouth Singing Party of the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua system presented the first number of the Lyceum Festival last night at the First Methodist church. An exceptionally artistic and clever program of songs, readings and musical selections delighted a good sized audience.

The entire program was typically American. Members of the party, dressed in quaint colonial costumes, presented in a charming manner "The Captain of Plymouth." Miss Edna Wooley, soprano singer, represented Priscilla Mullen, and Thomas Fuson, tenor, was John Alden, who wooed for Miles Standish, but won for himself the beautiful Puritan maiden.

Miss Wooley also appeared in Indian costume and interpreted several Indian songs in a way which delighted her hearers.

The last part of the program included a number of solos, both vocal and instrumental, quartettes, patriotic songs and readings. The number that brought the most applause was a reading from Booth Tarkington's "Penrod," by Miss Ethel May Wright. This was followed by a pianologue by Miss Wright.

Miss Norma Troje, who has acquired a reputation as a violinist, was accompanist for the singers and also contributed selections on the violin. A bass solo, "Song of Steel," by George T. Holmes was followed by a number of encores. Patriotic songs (Continued on page 3.)

LAY IN YOUR SEED CORN.

Possibility Of A Shortage If Farmers Delay Any Longer.

That there is a possibility of a shortage of seed corn, is the report coming from several parts of the county. "Farmers should lay in their seed corn at once," says J. M. Wilson of Graham. "I do not believe they are awake to the possibility of a shortage for next year. Corn will not be in cribbing condition for at least two weeks and if a hard freeze should come there will not be enough to supply the demand. Reports from Iowa and Illinois indicate a shortage there."

INTO FINE NEW HOME

PHYSICIANS BUILDING IS NOW READY FOR OCCUPANCY.

DOCTORS MOVING TODAY

Modern and Complete to Last Detail—Built For Practical Use, Convenience and Comfort—Cost $30,000

Doctors Chas. T. Bell, Wm. M. Wallis Jr., and F. R. Anthony will greet patients in their handsome new quarters in the Physicians building, opposite the Elks Club on North Main street on Monday morning.

With the completion and occupancy of the new building, Maryville is provided with one of the most modern and complete office buildings anywhere. A private enterprise, erected and equipped by the three physicians, it becomes, by virtue of their profession, one of the institutions of the city.

The Physicians building represents an investment of approximately $30,000 and will be used exclusively by Doctors Bell, Wallis and Anthony. Designed for practical use, convenience and comfort, it is the last word in buildings of this kind. Each of the physicians has a private office in which to receive patients while there is a library filled with medical and other volumes; a chemical laboratory where tests will be made; a medical dispensary stocked with drugs; rooms for examinations for various diseases; bath and toilet rooms; X-ray machines and much other apparatus not usually found outside the larger hospitals and other like institutions. For a layman to give a description of them and their various uses would be most futile.

A feature of the building is the large reception rooms where soft carpets, comfortable chairs and settees and other furnishings make it decidedly home-like. The furniture and fixtures are of Kaiser grey.

An automobile garage in the basement affords storage rooms for cars used by occupants of the building with every modern convenience at hand. The building is one story in height with a front dimension of 36 feet, extending back 78 feet and is of pressed brick with stone trimmings.

LOST A GOOD GAME

NORMALS SHOW UP WELL AGAINST THE STRONG WESLEYANS.

MILLER, SURE TACKLER

Ramsey, A Recent "Discovery," Featured the Game By Brilliant Kicking—Final Score 33-0.

By holding the strong Missouri Wesleyan eleven to a 33-0 score, Maryville Normal again upset the predictions based on comparative scores. Tarkio beat the Normal team 74-0 and Wesleyan beat Tarkio easily 14-7. Therefore the Bearcats were expected to receive a terrific wallop. That they did not only goes to show the uncertainty of football.

Both teams played straight football. Only two forward passes were completed during the game, each team making one.

The Normalites played well at times but they lacked the punch to cross Wesleyan's goal line. Twice, with twenty yards to go for a touchdown the Bearcats were unable to make distance. Attempts to score by the field goal route were also unsuccessful, and the Normal scoring record remains a blank.

In all except the second quarter and the closing minutes of the first, Wesleyan had the ball in Normal's territory and had no great difficulty in making their downs.

The Bearcats were without the services of Captain Hahn, Pickens and Daniels. Daniels is expected to be back in the game in a week or two; the other two are out for the season.

How the Game Was Played.

The game opened with Maryville receiving the kickoff. Wesleyan took the ball intercepting a forward pass and rushed it from the thirty-yard line straight down the field for the first touchdown. Lyle carried the ball over. Conklin punted out and kicked goal.

Another touchdown was added in quick time when Lyle again went over the line after long gains by Burrows, Conklin kicked goal.

Brown started a rally by recovering a fumble on Wesleyan's forty-yard line. A seven yard gain by Miller and a fifteen yard penalty on Wesleyan for holding put the ball on the twenty-yard line. Here the advance stopped and Ramsey attempted a drop kick which was blocked and recovered by a Wesleyan man.

Wesleyan kicked to the fifty-yard line and Miller made a brilliant return of fifteen yards. He made ten yards more on the next play and two five-yard plunges by Richards and Ramsey added another ten yards. An end run lost five yards but a pretty pass, Richards to Neal, made fifteen yards. With the ball inside the ten-yard line the necessary punch was again lacking and missed. It was the Normal's last chance to score.

Although they continued to hold their opponents even during the rest of the quarter, the half ended with the score 14-0.

DEATH OF JOHN C. DENHAM

Well Known Business Man Succumbs to Typhoid Fever—A Resident of Maryville For 16 Years.

John Cameron Denham, for sixteen years, one of Maryville's best known business men died at eight o'clock this morning at his home, 120 East Third street, following an eight weeks illness of typhoid fever.

Mr. Denham was 58 years old. He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. J. L. Whitehead of Washington, D. C. H. H. Warinner of Denver, Colo., a brother of Mrs. Denham, will arrive in Maryville tomorrow to attend the funeral services.

Mr. Denham came to Maryville from Oskaloosa, Ia., sixteen years ago and has been engaged continually in the harness and buggy business, at one time operating two large establishments. Mr. Denham suffered a stroke of paralysis some eight years ago which left him unable to walk without aid, but in spite of his suffering and inability to get about he continued patiently to conduct his business until about three months ago, when he was taken with fever.

Christian Science services will be held Monday at 2:30 o'clock at the Maryville Furniture company parlors by Ralph Eversole. Burial will be in Miriam cemetery.

DR. HOSMER IS MADE MAJOR

Former Maryville Boy Brother of R. P. Hosmer, Gains Rapid Promotion in the Army.

The following from the Lake County Times, Hammond, Ind., will be of interest to the many friends here of Dr. H. M. Hosmer, a brother of R. P. Hosmer of Maryville, who was reared to young manhood here.

"Dr. H. M. Hosmer, the Gary physician and surgeon, who was recently made a captain in the medical officers reserve corps has been promoted to be a major. Major Hosmer has made the fastest rise of a Gary officer who enlisted for the war.

Major Hosmer while at Indianapolis was among the 60 doctors selected from 3,000 at the training camp to become part of the regular army of officers' mess to take a special course and to act as an instructor. The major's rank is the highest now attainable for a reserve officer and is held by such famous doctors as Dr. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., and other surgeons. Friends of Dr. Hosmer were especially gratified to hear of this success."

Mr. and Mrs. George Felton of Parnell were in Maryville on business yesterday.

A BIG BATTLE IS ON

GERMAN AND ITALIAN FORCES START INTO ACTION.

ITALIANS REINFORCED

New Leadership Has Given Renewed Courage—Engagement May Rival "Battle of the Marne."

Special to The Democrat-Forum London, Nov. 10.—The biggest battle of the war in the Italian theatre has started, the German war office reported today according to reports received here. The report says the Germans have reached the Piave river. It is believed the re-organized Italian army will not only make a stand, but will attempt gigantic counter attacks.

Rome, Nov. 10.—The Italians having carried out a systematic retreat from the Isonzo front are in battle formation today of the well fortified Piave river. With them are Franco-British troops ready to participate in an engagement that may be no less important than the "Battle of the Marne." Ready to approach this battle line of less than thirty miles in width are the combined German-Bulgarian-Austro-Turk forces who are struggling with a blinding snow storm. The Italian rear guard created of the newly allied military committee with new leadership for the Italian forces has worked wonders in restoring confidence among the military authorities at Rome.

WHEN WILL WAR END

AN AMERICAN FINDS A DIVERSITY OF OPINION.

A VISIT TO TRENCHES

A South African Was of the Opinion That It Had Settled Down into An "Instichoo-shun."

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 10. — How long will the war last?

The best answer to this question heard along the Flanders battle front by Professor George Herbert Clarke, who has returned to the chair of English at the University of Tennessee, was by a South African, who remarked reflectively: "Well, sir, I can't rightly say; but it looks to me as though this 'ere war 'as settled down now into a sort of instichoo-shun."

Professor Clarke ventured to ask the question all along the firing line. "How long is a piece of string?" retorted an English statesman.

"A certain major did me the honor to invite my own conjecture," Professor Clarke says, "and, still better, agreed with it; but I found, for the most part, the expected wide diversity of opinion."

Another interesting question arose on board ship during Professor Clarke's return from Europe: Is a ship safer than the trenches? Certain Canadian officers on the boat argued the negative of the question, but the university professor was staunch for the affirmative.

Canadian officers said that there was less danger in trenches because shells seldom struck the trenches, and the shot usually went over the heads of the men. But Professor Clarke was of the opinion that there is less risk in a ship on the ocean, even though the Kaiser's sea sharks, submarines, menace vessels, and should a boat be torpedoed it would probably not be long until passengers were bound for Davy Jones' locker, even if they were in lifeboats or life savers.

The desolated town of Ypres was visited by Professor Clarke while in the war zone. "The American imagination has been deeply touched by the tragedy of Belgium," he says, "and, with the exception of its brutal protagonists, all the world shares that pity."

"Ypres is its symbol. The town's body is denuded, dead. It has been through two great hells and many lesser ones, but its soul lives on, intact. The town mayor impressed me as precisely the type of man to govern Ypres today. He is its military mayor, a sort of father-and-mother to Ypres, a brave, broadshouldered Cornishman, who has risen from the ranks, and who administers the affairs of his ruined borough with a pride and zeal that are not short of beautiful. He is not wholly obsessed by military values; he does not wish the visitor to miss the rare places of Ypres that are still, in their grim setting, more or less visible."

"The other day he helped a Belgian to discover his little hoard of francs that had been buried in the town during the first bombardment. He shows firm judgment and instant sympathy as each is needed. If Ypres is Belgium, he—English, as he is—Is Ypres; brave, steady, enduring and confident. Looking up whimsically at a shell that seemed to me to burst uncomfortably near (but then, they all sound like that), he remarked: "Ah, high explosive; I thought as much. Perhaps you had better be going now."

And we went with a sense of abiding regard for this sturdy soldier, while a deafening crash close by announced that the British guns had something urgent to say to the enemy, something that could not wait."

The word Somme similarly has expanded into a novel and grotesque symbol, Professor Clarke says. "For the Somme is a Dantean desolation, extending mile beyond mile—a desolation of splintered tree trunks, stripped, woebegone boughs, churned up subsoils that look like plague spots upon the corpse of earth. I thought of Coleridge's 'rotting sea.' The adjective is pale and ineffective here. I thought of Browning's 'Childe Roland.'"

But there is another side to the Somme picture: brisk movement at the appropriate spots is not wanting, as there is a distant train hauling its freight; German prisoners working the roads; Tommy at his endless fatigue jobs; guns volleying overhead; the Army Service Corps, "carrying on" with its never-ceasing string of lumbering lorries; and, perhaps most completely diverting of all, the momentary appearance of a Kentucky mule on the sky-line, tossing his heels in an abandoned ecstasy.

Professor Clarke was connected with the Intelligence Department of the British War Office in the war zone.

quarter, but a Wesleyan man was off-side and the goal was not allowed. He then tried another from the thirty and missed.

Maryville took the ball on the twenty-yard line and lost it on downs without punting. Burrows took the ball to the eight-yard line on a long end run. Lyle then went over for the third touchdown. Burrows failed to kick goal, his first miss after kicking nineteen this season.

Burrows made another touchdown in the last quarter after long gains by himself and a ten-yard pass to Conklin. Conklin again missed goal.

Conklin made the last touchdown on the longest run of the game, twenty yards past half a dozen would-be tacklers. The goal kick made the final score 33-0.

C. Burrows, and Lyle were the mainstays of the best backfield seen here this year. In Conklin and A. Burrows the Wesleyan team also has a pair of tackles equal to any in the conference.

Maryville's star was quarterback Miller. Miller was a good ground gainer, a sure tackler, and he displayed good generalship in running the team. Brown and Shift played their usual consistent games and Hanna, 115 pound half back, performed well. Richards showed gameness by playing practically the whole game with a sprained wrist. The kicking of fullback Ramsey, a new man "discovered" only last week, also featured the game.

vannah's foot ball field yesterday. Savannah surprised them by producing an almost entirely different foot ball team from the team Maryville defeated here, 46-6. However, Maryville felt equal to the occasion and started the game with all the fight in the world.

During the first part of the game neither team looked like winners, but Maryville's hopes went glimmering when Egley and Kemp, veteran ends, were retired from the game on account of injuries received. Wray, right half back, was also injured, but was able to finish the game.

The loss of Kemp and Egley probably contributed more to Savannah's victory than did the superiority of their own team. Kemp was knocked unconscious while playing on the defensive and Egley was injured in the neck. Several other members of the team received minor injuries and bruises.

Kemp and Egley were replaced by Price and Miller, who did good work but lacked experience, and Savannah gained three touchdowns for a total of 19 points, while Maryville was unable to score by line plunging. The team makes no complaint of the treatment they received but they do think that the Savannah team was a little too rough. About forty rooters went to Savannah in cars to see the game. Maryville's lineup was: McPherron, c; Fisher, lg; French, rg; Masters, lt; Lyle, rt; Egley, re; Kemp, le; Pickens, lb; Wray, rhf; Foreman, lb.; Pierpoint, qb. Substitutes: Price for Egley, Miller for Kemp.

Score—Savannah: 19; Maryville 0.

Backache of Women

How this Woman Suffered and Was Relieved.

Fort Fairfield, Maine.—"For many months I suffered from backache caused by female troubles so I was unable to do my house work. I took treatments for it but received no help whatever. Then some of my friends asked why I did not try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and my backache soon disappeared and I felt like a different woman, and now have a healthy little baby girl and do all my house work. I will always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. ALTON D. OAKES, Fort Fairfield, Maine.

TO TAKE THE 'BAR' OUT OF 'CA-BAR-ET'

Chicago Gets Ready to Bid Goodbye to the Wiggle of the Dance and "Music" of Jazz Bands.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Miss Cabaret, pet child of Father Knickerbocker, is quaking today before the austere and sinister gaze of Father Dearborn.

Whereas in gay and giddy Gotham the pranks of Miss Cabaret not only are smiled upon and enjoyed, but are considered almost an essential attribute to a satisfactory existence, in staid and stern Chicago the pampered maiden finds herself scorned and in peril of becoming an outcast. Pride for months has kept erect the head of Miss Cabaret here, but her spirit is beginning to weaken under the load of contumely her accusers have heaped upon her.

Chicago's jazzing cabarets are facing a dismal future, and the publicans who preside over them are knowing anxious moments. Not only are city authorities doing their little best to grease the skids that will slide the cabaret into oblivion, so far as Chicago is concerned, but Uncle Sam likewise is beginning to look askance at the antics that feature cabaret life.

New York may think it necessary to have its meals and its drinks served while the festive trombone, reinforced by the best efforts of the snare drum, the sand rattle, the clashing cymbals and a whole flock of tin pans, cowbells and other jazz accessories, wails out its syncopated serenade. The gambols of sprightly burlesque queens may strike the New Yorker as essential to the enjoyment of a meal, and the Gothamite may see nothing naughty in the promiscuous mingling of cabaret patrons in the whirl of the modern dance.

To righteous and upright Chicago, however, these features of cabaret life are shocking. Evil lurks in every wriggle of the cabaret dancer and wickedness leaps forth with every blatant note of the jazz band instruments. Under the guise of joy Chicago sees in the cabaret a lurking source of evil that threatens its young men and its maidens.

Some Chicago cabarets already have felt the demolishing force of vested authority and have been closed. Owners of others have been summarily haled before the Chief of Police and told the things they must not do if they wish to retain their licenses. Hereafter they cannot plead they "did not know it was naughty."

Potatoes With Sauce or Cheese.

Potatoes baked with white sauce and cheese, scalloped potatoes, and similar dishes can be used in place of macaroni and spaghetti, and potato dumplings can be used in place of wheat dumplings. Cooked in combination with other foods, in a meat pie, for instance, potatoes may be depended upon as the principal dinner dish. There are also a number of dishes, such as potato pudding, which can be used at dinner in place of sweets made of wheat flour.

By Garland Miller.

*****

Merle Selcman, a former High school student, now traveling salesman for Quayle & Co., Jewelers of New York, visited the school Monday morning. He called to solicit an order from the advanced seniors for graduation announcements and cards. Everyone was glad to see him at the High school once more.

High school students were given a literary treat at assembly Tuesday when Marcus T. Nielsen of the Conservatory of Music gave two readings, "Hiawatha's Wooing," and "The Train Tomorrow." The grade pupils also came upstairs to hear the readings and no better tribute to the reader's ability could be given than the silence that was maintained in the auditorium.

Dr. E. F. Wright, who is conducting a revival at the Baptist church and David M. Hughes, who is leading the singing, were introduced to the student body by Rev. Wiles, pastor of the church. Mr. Wright gave an interesting talk and Mr. Hughes' songs were pleasing.

Everything is in readiness for the "coming out" of the "High School Opinion" next week. The subscription list is assuming large proportions and some of the subscribers are taking as many as five copies.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Monk and two children of Clarinda, are visiting over Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Emma Monk of Skidmore.

Red Triangle Campaign, November 11 to 18

Next Sunday there will begin in every part of this county a campaign to raise in eight days $35,000, 000 for Y. M. C. A. work among soldiers at home and abroad.

Nodaway's Quota Is Only $10,000

Surely a small amount for a great constructive work of the Y. M. C. A. is safeguarding the moral manhood of the young men of our armies.

The Y. M. C. A. provides the only refuge for the boys in their leisure; it is their club, their church, their place of clean entertainment, the tie that binds them to home. They accept its ministrations with eager hands.

Is there any patriotic, red-blooded citizen back home who would hesitate to give to this cause? Don't wait to find out what the other fellow is giving, but make your own contribution liberal and your conscience will be easy. Have your contribution ready. See Chairman S. G. Gillam or Henry Wright, Campaign Manager.

NODAWAY COMMITTEE Y. M. C. A. WAR WORK FUND.
S. G. Gillam, Chairman

TO SAVE OUR YOUNG MEN.—

The soldiers in the field are menaced by two perils — the enemy in front of the trenches and the enemy behind the trenches.

The one threatens his life with deadly missiles and the other his manhood, his health, his moral strength and his efficiency with degrading vices.

In his eloquent appeal for the Y. M. C. A. War Fund, George Sherwood Eddy vividly depicts both of these menaces.

He describes with moving pathos the manifold dangers and bitter hardships that beset the men in the trenches — the shells, the bullets, the bombs, the bayonets, the poisonous gasses; the cold, the wet, the mud, the filth, the vermin, the arduous labor.

Besides the work of the government in training, equipping, feeding and clothing the soldiers, there are two vital tasks which necessarily depend in the main upon volunteer contributions and effort. These are:

1. Caring for the wounded, which is the special function of the Red Cross.
2. Caring for the fighting men, which in the main is the special task of the Y. M. C. A.
3. The Red Cross campaign for funds was crowned with success.

The call now comes for funds to sustain the no less important and valuable work of the Y. M. C. A., in caring for the men in the trenches and the training camps.

In the war work the Y. M. C. A. is a religious organization only in the broadest sense of the word. Its service is social and moral, dis-associated from any and all sectarianism. All churches and religious bodies may work through it, but every one regardless of race, creed and sect, is admitted to its privileges.

What this organization has done for the men in the army and in the prison camp is a stirring record of heroic and efficient work for the preservation of health and morals among the millions exposed to the horrors and hardships of war, and the debasing and destructive influences and effects of vice.

Every soldier who has experienced the beneficial influences of the Y. M. C. A. work and who has found in its huts the comfort, the solace and the wholesome recreation which would otherwise be denied him, is an eloquent witness to the value of the organization's work.

The organization gives first comfort, aid and refreshment to the walking wounded.

(Statement taken from a letter to G. H. Colbert.
Written by his son, Capt. Herschel Colbert)

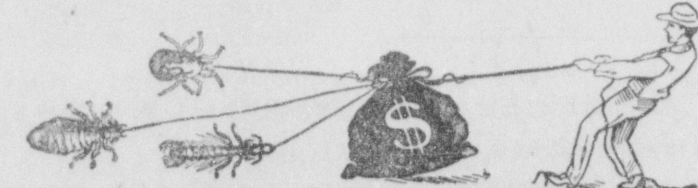

Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas.
November 6, 1917

The Y. M. C. A. is doing the best of the work here. Buildings are erected in every brigade (every three regiments) and the men are furnished stationery, books and magazines, music, moving pictures, boxing and wrestling matches, home talent vaudeville stunts, lectures, etc.

Before the Knights of Columbus erected their big hall for Catholic services, the Y. M. C. A.'s were turned over to the Catholics for religious purposes several times a week.

The Y. M. C. A. has the official sanction of the War Department, and it has been authorized to take its equipment, libraries, movies, etc., to Europe with the troops so that it can continue its work there. Consequently if money for amusement is to be not only safely contributed but contributed where it will do the most good it should be sent to the Y. M. C. A.

TAKING MOUNTED DRILL

In Letter to Democrat-Forum Maryville Boy Says Camp Is Being Modernized — Negro Troops Shiver.

In a letter to the Democrat-Forum, Charles B. Ellis, formerly with the Maryville Electric Light Co., now with the field signal corps at Camp Dodge, Ia., says the Y. M. C. A. is the only place the boys have to go for recreation and amusement, with moving pictures, lectures, services, music, etc., to enjoy after work hours. The letter follows:

Camp Dodge, Nov. 8, To The Democrat-Forum:

It looks as though this afternoon has been set aside to write home and as most of the boys are doing it I will drop you a few lines for I don't think there are very many Maryville boys up here; there are a few, but have not been able to see any of them yet.

Well, I guess every one of these camps are just about the same from what I see of pictures and hear from boys in other camps.

There are seventy-five men in this Wire Company and we have a small barrack and have four furnaces in it; we keep plenty warm, if anything it is generally too warm every evening and most of the boys here have colds.

We also have hot water for shower baths in other words we are all fixed up in modern style.

We are being trained very hard; we have been on infantry drill for over three weeks, but starting this week, we took up mounted drill.

We have our horses. They are all coal black; think they will look a little better after they get a little more working on, and believe me, if they say work on your horse for an hour you had better do it.

Most of the boys have full uniforms; of course there were a few odd sizes and all could not be fitted.

They are building here every day; don't know how long the building will continue.

The wiring gang will be next door to me in a day or so and I may forget that I am in the army and go over and help them install the lights in the new barracks.

Well, I have spoken of most everything in general and will say a word for the Y. M. C. A. They sure have some nice places here for the boys to go and enjoy themselves. They have moving pictures twice a week, church twice a week and some kind of a lecture on other nights of the week; they also have a virotra and a couple hundred records so a soldier can find something to enjoy himself. You can also help yourself to writing paper and if a soldier is "broke"—of course he never is until a day or two after pay day—but anyway you tell them you want to write home, but you haven't a stamp and they will provide it.

We are going to get a nine day fur-long Christmas and that will give me time to visit a couple of days in Maryville.

Well, I think I have told you about all I can think of for this time and will close.

I remain,
Charles B. Ellis,
Co. B., 313 Field Signal Battalion, Camp Dodge, Iowa.
P. S.—We have about six thousand Alabama negroes here in camp and they can't stand this weather. Most of them are in the hospital. Don't know what they will do when it gets cold here.

Theatres Can Pay War Tax.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.
Washington, Nov. 10.—Moving picture theatres and other amusement places may pay the 1-cent war tax for each 10 cents admission charge without collecting it from patrons, Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper has ruled today. #### A MACHINE PLANTS TREES

This Newest Device Can Set Out From 10,000 to 15,000 Trees a Day.

A machine which plants from 10,000 to 15,000 forest tree seedlings a day is being used at the Letchworth park forest and arboretum, in Wyoming county, New York, according to officials of the forest service who are acting as advisers in the work, says the American Contractor. Previously the planting has been done by hand at the rate of 1,200 to 1,500 trees each day per man.

The machine was designed to set out cabbage and tomato plants, but works equally well with trees. It is about the size of an ordinary mowing machine and is operated by three men and two horses. One man drives the team while the other two handle the seedlings.

The machine makes a furrow in which the trees are set at any desired distance, and an automatic device indicates where they should be dropped. Two metal tired wheels push and roll the dirt firmly down around the roots. This is a very desirable feature, it is said, because the trees are apt to die if this is not well done. Two attachments make it possible to place water and fertilizer at the roots of each seedling. Another attachment marks the line on which the next row of trees is to be planted.
